

September 10, 2009
Ahmedabad, India

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

URADICS launches Local Search Engine Rankings Checking

URADICS is very happy to announce the launch of the ability to check the rankings of our client's websites in their target markets search engines locally. What this means is, that if a customer wants to optimize their website for US market, then we have the ability to check their competitors and their website rankings in the Local US Search Engine from India.

With our dedicated computers in the United States we can exactly see the effects of our SEO Services right in the local market and better assess our client's competitors, giving them an edge over other companies. Previously we had to rely on the search results served in India for the TLD's. With this ability, we will also be able to effectively demonstrate our SEO Training Course & Advanced SEO Training Course students the differences in the search results pattern conducted in different countries, so that they can understand the subject and the effect clearly. This is an incremental step for us to help serve our clients and students in a much better way.

"It gives me immense pleasure to announce our ability to check the rankings of our client's website's in their respective target markets. Currently this service is only available in the United States, but we plan to add more countries very soon. This ability is not just beneficial to our clients but also to our students as for the first time they will be able to see the differences real time in the SERP's for the queries executed in different countries and its effects on the client's website." says Pulkit Agrawal, Director, URADICS.

About URADICS

URADICS, an IT Training and Outsourcing services provider. We provide IT Training in Search Engine Optimization SEO, Zend PHP Certification and .NET and Search Engine Optimization SEO, Web Designing, Web Development & Graphic Designing services. Driven by high demand in the current industry; URADICS's innovative methods of teaching promises a secure career for its students and an increased customer base and visibility to its customers.

###

Media Contact

Aditi Agrawal (Director, URADICS)
91.79.4006 7256
aditi@uradics.com